Viagraph is a Windows® based communication and evaluation software we provide to our customers free of charge for an unlimited number of PC. In addition to the user friendly programming of our devices viagraph offers an extensive data evaluation and easy installation. Another benefit are regular free of charge software updates by download. The diagrams and tables created with viagraph are transferred to Microsoft Excel® by a simple mouse click and thanks to their universal and clear format, they can be inserted into presentations or publications:
